This year's Bilingual Christian Convention, "Educating the Church for Success," took place March 1-3 at Colegio's Eagle Pass Campus. Our guest speakers were Sergio Alvarado from Dallas, Texas, James Diamond from Sulphur Springs, Texas, and Gordon Thompson from Eugene, Oregon. Around 250 people attended this year's convention from the United States (Texas, Alabama, California, Kansas, Michigan, Oregon) and México (Coahuila, San Luis Potosí, Zacatecas). The speakers challenged the audience with their great messages and everyone rejoiced with the congregational singing, special music and fellowship. Colegio graduate Abraham Cary led the praise band. It was made up of three students, two graduates, one staff member and a friend. During the opening service, President Mercado and Chairman of the Board, Ed Skidmore, presented Francisco and Frances Barajas with a plaque of acknowledgement for their years of service at Colegio. Thank you so much to everyone who made the Bilingual Convention possible!
