The 2005 Bilingual Christian Convention, "Living on the Edge" took place March 3-5 featuring guests speakers Jack E. Martin from Apache Junction, AZ, and Joel Córdoba from Nueva Rosita, Coahuila.

Around 300 people attended this year's convention from different cities in Texas, California, Illinois, Oklahoma, and Oregon. Our brethren from Mexico came from the states of Coahuila, San Luis Potosi, and Nuevo Leon. During the evening sessions, with the sermons "Twelve Hours to Live," "One Foot in Heaven," "Bought and Paid For," and "Jesus is Coming Soon," Bro. Martin encouraged the audience to make the most of the time we have, to give God our very best, and to be ready for the Lord's return. During the morning and afternoon assemblies Joel Córdoba presented three sermons entitled: "The Root," "The Vision," and "The Time." The gatherings also included congregational singing and special music. On Saturday evening, after the convention's last event, 55 of CB's Alumni and friends enjoyed a banquet and shared a time of fellowship.

Our sincere thanks to everyone who took part in the Bilingual Convention and made this event possible.

ENDOWMENT

After 60 years of operation, Colegio Biblico is finally able to open an endowment account thanks to a gift from the estate of Warren D. Kailer of Chase, KS.

Welcome to Colegio Biblico!

After trying to come to Colegio Biblico since 2003, Lunot Joseph from the country of Haiti was finally granted the Student Visa by the United States authorities. Lunot (pronounced Lee-nough) arrived in Eagle Pass this semester. His passion for becoming an equipped minister for Christ caused him to come to a strange country, and although he already speaks some Spanish, this will be a difficult time of adjustment in a different culture. Lunot's wife and five children are still in Haiti; he hopes to be able to bring them with him and prays for them constantly as well as for the churches there.

CONSTRUCTION RESUMES

On February 25th, CB gave a down payment to a company for the construction of the metal roof of Mexico Campus' multi-purpose building. Usually, most of the work is done by our own students and staff, but because of the risk of heights and lack of experts on metallic structures, the business was hired. We thank God for allowing this project to continue and for blessing Colegio Biblico with friends like you who are an essential part of our ministry. Thank You!

HISTORY

Four Presidents

Founding president Harland Cary, former president Dean Cary, former president John Cary, and current president Jorge E. Mercado.

Colegio Biblico founder, Harland Cary, celebrated 69 years of ministry last February 15th. Bro. Harland spoke on "Miracles and Joys of Ministry." Family and friends gathered in a time of singing, special music, and fellowship.

Friendship Day Celebrated

On February 14th, the Mexico Campus welcomed Colegio Biblico students and personnel to celebrate the "Day of Love and Friendship," as Valentine's Day is called in Mexican culture. Students from the Mexico
