This year's Bilingual Christian Convention, "The Call to Vocational Ministry," took place February 27- March 1 at Colegio Biblico. On Friday night, 102 people gathered for a banquet in Eagle Pass to kick off the activities. They enjoyed a delicious meal, special music by students, singing with guest JD Miller, professional musician and composer from Winchester, Kentucky, and a great message by Ron Key, Senior Minister at Cornerstone Christian Church in Dallas, Texas. On Saturday, the activities took place at the Mexico Campus with workshops on "Leadership" by Ed Skidmore, Senior Minister at Castle Hills Christian Church in San Antonio, Texas, messages by Ron Key, congregational singing with JD and special music by the Rondalla. On Sunday, the Alumni Reunion was held at the Mexico Campus, with about 165 people attending. That evening, area churches joined the convention for the closing service and shared communion. 460 people were present, including children. Dan Villarreal, Hispanic Outreach Minister at Southwest Christian Church in Austin, Texas, delivered the closing sermon and JD shared a powerful testimony about his first missionary trip to China. The convention was a great blessing! The atmosphere was encouraging, the messages challenging, and the worship up-lifting. Thank you so much to everyone who participated and made the Bilingual Convention possible!
